

You are invited to

CHAMPIONS FOR LEARNING™
EDUCATION FORUM

It's Being Done

featuring Kati Haycock of The Education Trust

This community-wide event will share models of innovation that impact student learning. National and local data, along with examples of what is working in local schools and classrooms will be highlighted as well as ways to get involved and become a Champion for Learning.

WHEN

Thursday, November 29, 2012

7-9pm (program & reception)

WHERE

Philharmonic Center for the Arts

5833 Pelican Bay Boulevard

TICKETS

Tickets are $50 or as a benefit of an annual contribution.

Register online at www.ChampionsForLearning.org or by calling 239-643-4755.

KATI HAYCOCK

Kati Haycock is one of the nation's leading advocates in the field of education and speaks about educational improvement before thousands of educators, community and business leaders, and policymakers each year. The Education Trust works for the high academic achievement of all students and strives to close the gaps in opportunity and achievement.

Known for years as a powerful force on education policy, The Trust is often described as "the most important truth teller" in American public education. But the organization also works hand in hand with educators and civic leaders in their efforts to transform schools and colleges into institutions that serve all students well.

Kati Haycock has received numerous awards for her service on behalf of our nation's youth, and serves as a director on several education-related boards, including the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, The New Teacher Project, and the Hunt Institute.

*Join us on the bus to discover ways that you can help local students.
Become a Champion For Learning!*

Sponsored by

Naples Daily News
naplesnews.com Read. Learn. Share.

PHILHARMONIC CENTER for the ARTS®

The  EDUCATION Foundation